materials. Not just textbooks, any equipment that costs more than $500.

Vice President Ryan, thank you for your comments Member Woo. Would like a definition of sufficient. We could have a school deemed sufficient but in fact has a history book that is 20 years old. Iris Taylor answers, that is correct, what we try to do in instances like that if there hasn't been an adoption we try to supplement with other materials. How are we communicating with our parents that we actually have a process for updating our textbooks? Iris Taylor answers, we currently rely on our sites but there is a process where parents can return worn materials and receive new ones. Vice President Ryan makes a request that we make a move on that right now.

Member Pritchett wants to weigh in on what Vice President Ryan was asking about. Understands that parents can exchange worn books for newer books but it seems that the school sites should be checking to see if the books are in good working order prior to them being release to a student to be sent home. Asks that the school sites make sure these textbooks are in good working order before they are released to the students.

President Hansen, the definition of sufficient is really not very sufficient. Assumes we are doing this because we are mandated by State Legislation to do this once a year. Comment to Gerardo, looks like we have $20m just for textbooks. At next Budget Committee meeting, maybe break up item so it more accurately reflects what is in there.

Board Comments:

Member Cochrane this has been a sticky situation because there are so many entities involved but there has been steady progress step by step. Appreciates the efforts to make this happen and moving forward.

Member Woo passing this resolution will allow the district to have more control over the destiny of the site rather than leaving up to the state.

President Hansen during time on school board has learned that patience is a virtue and that's something that we have had to experience here. Appreciates everyone's persistence and perseverance.

Member Woo motion to move from conference to action
